

A is for Anemone

Sea anemones may look like flowers or plants, but these creatures are actually animals related to corals and jellies.

B is for Bioluminescence

Bioluminescence occurs when living organisms, such as this anglerfish, produce and emit light! Bioluminescent marine animals can be found from the deep sea to the ocean's surface.